Certificate Program

BACKGROUND:

“At the end of the day you bet on people, not strategies”

Lorry Bossidy, Founder COO, General Electric

Co-author for “Execution”

“Knowledge is process of piling up, wisdom lies in their simplification”

Martin Luther King

The world is changing fast. To keep self-updated with changing phases is challenging for every student. For Management student understanding the study, theories and management principles is not enough. They need to challenge themselves to make sure that they can apply them as ‘Competency’.

On one side the faculties are taking efforts to make sure the students should understand the teaching while on the other side student want the crisp and particular things which they can use in their job. They are eager to learn for earning better. The topics in the syllabus are defined in such a way that the student should understand the structure of the management work. However the fundamentals which are tough in the management school expected to be applied in day today work as managerial position.

The master degree students need opportunity to apply these theories. The surveys from NCERT, AICTE and most of the educational stalwart claims that the syllabus is not enough as it is not developing the expected employability of the students. Management students till have better employability than other fields. However there is lot of areas to improve.

As correctly demonstrated by Lozlo Bock, CHRO from Google – ‘Select the candidate for attitude.’ They give the opportunity to the selected candidate to choose the project he is interested to work with. This gives them responsibility and every time they need to excel to achieve the best results. However, every candidate may not get opportunity to work with company like google. So they need to prepare themselves for challenges which may come up in the job.

In my work while working in HR where I could get the opportunity to conduct interview from apprentice to CEO of the company, we could notice the candidates are missing very common and basic skills. Just acquiring the information can make them information rich, however until the information is used in specific way it will not be converted into knowledge. Even at higher level recruiting organization expect a sensible decision form which can help organization to grow- This is outcome of wisdom.

Wisdom is always termed as white feather in the crown. The wisdom comes only after experience, mistakes and learning lessons from it.

On this background the major question is,

‘How to prepare children for this new world expectations?’

Current situation and challenges

Considering current situation students along with curriculum the students need go for other courses to enhance their skills. They need to update themselves for the requirement of the industries. The challenges which can be grouped as follows

- 1 out of 4 management student is employable, India Today survey Jul 22
- Management education needs to continuously evolve to ensure learners obtain the skills that are required by an ever-changing and demanding industry –prof Indarpal Singh, Skill Development, Universal Business School, Mumbai
- HE graduates are not sufficiently equipped with the relevant skills to be entrepreneurial, they experience difficulties in contributing to society in a meaningful way. - Tomlinson (2008) and Pitan (2017) in SAGE Journal
- Design of programs and activities that will enhance the development of the relevant knowledge and skills is necessary
- Closing the global skills gap could add US$11.5 trillion to the global GDP by 2028 as stated in telegraph India
- 77% of industry leaders believe that the fresh management student will leave the job within a year.

Even when we do the survey there were observations from industries like

- Students lack basics of the subject, related skill and knowledge
- They could not cope with team dynamics
- They could not sustain the work load
- They lack application of theories they have learned
- They lack creativity

On the other hand when students were asked about their expectation, they reveal

- Need good work environment
- Enjoy the job with least pressure
- Less work hours
- Simplified work

The challenges are many and so are the solutions. Management schools need to know / research own challenges and find solutions which can be applied to get the results.
